

Sinclair Broadcasting has directed their stations to air an anti-Kerry
propaganda piece,
"Stolen Honor", two weeks before the election. This is a clear example of a
big media
corporation using the public airwaves
for its own agenda,
contrary to the public interest.
Stations using the
public airwaves are required by law to serve the public interest, and presenting only one point of view is electioneering. and
is against federal election laws.
This is not in the best interest of a free democracy! It is also an example
of what can happen
when large companies
control large numbers of stations:
they can force their propaganda onto huge numbers of people in a manner which is not fair or balanced. This should not be allowed!
